Notes from the District Administrator

The weather a few weeks ago made me think it was summer, but now that the weather has gone back to 'normal,' it hasn't felt like we are getting so close to the end of the school year. This time of year is full of field trips, fun, final projects, and graduation. Students will be looking forward to the summer and their future.

When I think about Almond-Bancroft School District, I think about how we do our very best to help our students not only with learning academic subjects but also with becoming good people. We know that as students grow and learn in our schools, they will eventually be the adults who are living and thriving in our communities. We want them to know what it means to be a good community member, to be a good citizen, to work hard, and to never give up. Our staff build relationships with students and support them throughout their time with us. Our hope is that when they graduate they will be successful members of our society in whatever they want to do and in whatever success looks like for them.

As a former English teacher, one thing that I love to do is look at quotes to inspire my thoughts - especially while getting ready to write a newsletter article or write my graduation speech. I usually begin with the old standards - Nelson Mandela, Oliver Wendell Holmes, Jr., Henry David Thoreau, Maya Angelou. However, this year I decided to see what more contemporary people had to say about education and success. What I found was also very inspiring.

First of all, comedian and actress Amy Poehler talked about working with other people and building relationships. "You can't do it alone. As you navigate the rest of your life, be open to collaboration. Other people and other people's ideas are often better than your own." We do a lot of this in teacher professional development as well as in the classroom. We feel that we are always better together than alone.

Secondly, people gave advice on how to continue to move forward and delve deep into what you want to do. Actor John Krasinski from The Office, A Quiet Place, and Jack Ryan said, "Find more of your people, lean all the way in, take chances, fail big and take chances again, listen to music, remember to believe in something, and fall in love as many times as it takes. Before you do something special, just do something." Actress Jennifer Garner continued with "Insist on optimism, dig in, fight for what makes you optimistic about the world. Find it, insist on it, dig into it, go after it." No matter where we are in our lives, we need to dig deep and engage in everything we do. That will bring us the most joy in our lives.

Finally, comedian and actor Steve Carell and singer-songwriter Taylor Swift both shared about being kind and being good to each other. "Every once in a while, put something positive into the world. Do something kind, make somebody laugh, and do not take yourself too seriously," Steve Carell. "No matter what happens in life, be good to people. Being good to people is a wonderful legacy to leave behind," Taylor Swift. Our greatest goal at Almond-Bancroft is to help our students to be the best human beings that they can be. As I look around the hallways and classrooms, I can see that our staff and community are doing a great job.

Dr. Jodi Becker

PreK-12 Principal Message

It's May! Every time I say that, I am reminded of the musical Camelot, in which they sing a lovely song about the shenanigans that happen in May. "Tra-la! It's May! That darling month when everyone throws self-control away!" One would think that Frederick Loewe and Alan Jay Lerner (the writers of Camelot) must have been teachers who had to deal with students with spring fever. Of course, they weren't, but every teacher, administrator, support staffer, and parent can relate.

May is the culmination of the year. The students do final projects, do their last progress monitoring, choose their final class books for the year, and generally have a flurry of activities. Baseball, softball, and track are in full swing. Field trips, awards ceremonies, concerts, parades, and prom fill the calendar. There is a feeling of so much to do in so little time. The weather is nicer, so people want to be outside. May is just plain busy.

And yet, while everything is wrapping up, plans are being made for next year. Classes are being scheduled, professional development needs are being assessed and trainings arranged; and homecoming is already in the works. Even the graduating seniors, whose high school careers are coming to an end, are preparing for next year. College, tech school, the workforce, the military - basically the options are endless.

So May is a crazy tizzy of warm weather, tons of activities, and planning for the future. Enjoy all of it, every busy minute! And if you have some spare time, maybe watch Camelot because everyone can use a few Tra-las in their life, especially in May.

A big thank you to the Almond Rod and Gun Club for sponsoring the Raptor Education Group, Inc (REGI) out of Antigo to come share their animals with our students. They are a non-profit group that cares for injured and orphaned birds that are on the threatened or endangered list. Samantha and Cinna were our presenters. They brought a turkey vulture (not a raptor), a kestrel, a barn owl, a barred owl, and a screech owl. They presented first to the 4th/5th grades and then to the middle school.

The 6th-grade students in Mr. Collins' ELA class tried solving the problem we have with plastic pollution. They have been learning different aspects of the problem during the unit and are collaborating on potential solutions. The students are passionate about working to solve this problem.

 Robotic rabbits remove ripe raspberries.

Class Simile/Metaphor Poem

Our class is noisy like a flock of hungry chickens fighting for food.
 We run as fast as cheetahs from each other during recess.
 Our class is boisterous like wild animals in a zoo.
 We read like librarians on vacation.
 Our class is as diverse as a crowded art festival.
 We fight like cats and dogs over gaga ball.
 Our class loves each other like a family.
 We are sleepy sloths on Monday mornings.
 Our class is an energetic ball of puppies on Friday afternoon.

Class

Squirmy, talkative
 Jumping, writing, reading
 Knowledge, teacher, books, desks
 Working, creating, singing
 Energetic, silly
 Students

Haiku

Flowers waving hi
 Underneath the bright blue sky
 Signs that spring is here.

Are You Ready?

School is almost out!
 Are you ready?
 The lake is all set for swimming!
 Are you ready?
 The flowers are blooming!
 Are you ready?
 The sun is burning!
 Are you ready?
 Hook up the boat!
 Are you ready?
 Light the fire!
 We are ready!

ELEMENTARY BAND NEWSLETTER

IMPORTANT INFORMATION:

Welcome to May! The 5th grade band students have been doing a fantastic job in class as we continue to prepare for our upcoming Elementary Spring Concert. Another important event to keep in mind this month is the 5th grade band picture day taking place during class time on Wednesday, May 24th. On this day, all 5th Grade Band members will be photographed, with parental permission, with their band instrument. Should our current 5th graders participate in band through their senior year of high school, these photos will be shared at their senior spring concert to commemorate the journey they have traveled. A permission slip will go home with students for parents to fill out and return to Mrs. Keenan. I encourage all students to dress up for this picture day so that the pictures look great for years to come!

-Mrs. Keenan, Band Director

Do You Love Children and Enjoy Helping in a School Setting?

The Portage County Foster Grandparent Program (FGP) has openings for volunteers to help in local schools for the 2023-2024 school year.

FGP is ideal for people who enjoy children, have some extra time, and could use a tax-free stipend each month. Under the supervision of a teacher, each Foster Grandparent spends 7.5 - 20 hours per week assisting children, one-on-one and in small groups, who need extra help in areas such as school readiness, reading, social skills or mentoring. On-going training is provided, and no previous teaching experience is needed.

Candidates for the program must be age 55+ and meet income eligibility requirements ($2,430/month for a one-person household or $3,287/month for a two-person household. Individuals with somewhat higher incomes may still qualify if they have higher medical expenses.).

The stipend Foster Grandparents receive does not impact any other aid or benefits they might already be receiving, such as subsidized housing or medical assistance. They also receive travel assistance, meals at the school, and many other benefits.

For more information, contact the FGP Coordinator at the Aging & Disability Resource Center, 715-346-1401.
